

Cyprus State Prize for children's literature

The reasoning of the committee for awarding this book:

“It's a realistic novel with an original theme, Asperger's Syndrome, a hot modern subject, a form for Autism. The committee found the work especially interesting, with outstanding sensitive narration and originality in it's subject an it's writing and accepted that is written in a simple language lean, and above all children-friendly and humor is not at all missing...”
